STUDENTS POUR IN FOR TIMES NIE COLOUR SPLASH 2020, WHICH IS BEING ORGANISED IN ASSOCIATION WITH HYDERABAD NEXT GALLERIA MALLS

ALL SET: Participants at Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall @Irrum Manzil

WORK IN PROGRESS: At Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall @Punjabgutta

BY ANKITA RATH

The ongoing Times NIE Colour Splash 2020, which is being organised in association with Hyderabad Next Galleria Malls, witnessed an overwhelming participation on its second day. The event was held at both Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall, Punjabgutta and Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall, Irrum Manzil on Thursday.

Nearly 350 students from 40 schools poured in for the painting competition at Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall, Irrum Manzil while the total participation stood at about 280 students from 30 schools at Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall, Punjabgutta.

Srinuji Ghanta, artist and founder of SHRI Arts, graced as the judge for the event at Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall, Irrum Manzil. The guests of honour were Pankaj Sharma, centre manager, Next Galleria Mall, Irrum Manzil, Karthik Dandamraju, manager, operations, JLL and Neha Tiwari, manager, marketing and communications, Next Galleria Malls.

Tarab Khan, artist and author, judged the event at Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall, Punjabgutta.

The competition was held in two categories, Juniors (class IV-VII) and seniors (class VIII-XII). The junior category had two sub-categories of Crayons and Watercolours while the senior category had the sub-categories of Abstract and Watercolours. The participants were judged on the relevance of their paintings to each category. The theme for the painting competition was announced on the spot following which the young artists got busy in demonstrating their thoughts and imagination with colours. The total time allotted to them was one hour.

Addressing the crowd, Tarab Khan said, "It's always a cherished experience to be among children and engage them. The world is evolving at a fast pace. We are moving towards a new tomorrow, where the world will be dominated by right brainers who would have the ability to imagine, think and conceptualise. And Art is one of the critical dimensions which can expand one's thinking and amplify his/her conceptual and imagination ability." "Engaging in creative pursuits like art leads to new learning and sparks children's curiosity. I appreciate the efforts put forth by The Times of India Group for organising this painting competition for children in Hyderabad and encouraging them in their creative pursuits," she added.

As per the format, 20 participants each from Junior and Senior categories were shortlisted from both the locations for the Grand Finale, which will be held on January 26, Sunday at Hyderabad Next Galleria Mall, Irrum Manzil from 9:30 am onwards.

The event was well organised. It was fun participating and gaining this amazing experience.
Mrudala Raju, VIII C, P Obul Reddy Public School, Jubilee Hills

It was a nice experience. We were thrilled to make a painting on climate. I was very excited.
Maui, class V C, Meridian School, Madhapur

I am happy that I got this opportunity to participate in this competition and showcase my talent. It would have been nice if we had been given two hours.
N Kavya, class IX, Sweet Angel High School, Madhuranagar

It was fun, but the time limit was not enough. Overall it was an excellent learning experience, could interact with more students.
Balamrai Rishikat, class VII B, Gitanjali Devshala

It was such a wonderful event. I am glad that I got this opportunity to showcase my talent.
G Arti, class VIII A, Bhavan's Atmakuri Rama Rao School
